Preface

Lest, through the years that lie ahead, the memories of our stay at St. Francis grow dim, the staff has endeavored to capture some of that spirit that now warms our hearts and lights the way that we have passed together for the last four years,—and to let film and ink make a record so that in some future day, as we turn these pages, they may enkindle our faith, sustain our hope and move our charity to give prayerful thanks to the Source of all our blessings Christ, the Light of the World.

Dedication . . .

Class of 1948

There is no adequate way to express our feeling of love and gratitude toward you, who have ever been our inspiration and encouragement. Our young hearts are too full and words too limited. So it is with good faith that, in your tender understanding, you will accept, not only this book, but our gratitude for the four years of pleasure and achievement which it seeks to represent. We dedicate this edition of our yearbook,

TO YOU — OUR LOVING PARENTS

Prayer to Christ, Light of the World

By MARY DIERS

*At last, we pass the portal fair—
And leave our childhood years,*

*To step into a world beset
With raging hates and fears.*

*With lamps held high, may we show men
The flag of Faith unfurled—*

*That all mankind may turn to Thee,
Oh, Christ, Light of the World!*

Theme

We have endeavored, in this our yearbook, to show that even in this dark and dreary postwar world of inflation, mercenary interests and atheism, there can be a ray of light to illumine the despairing world. This is the light of the Catholic faith, of Christ's teachings and His graces, of His increasing love for us. As Catholic young women, stepping from familiar security into turmoil and destruction, we must contribute our efforts to the task of making the world God-conscious.

After the excellent training which we have received for four years we are prepared to step forward to take our rightful places in a confused society. Whether destined for further education or for the business world we will find use for these teachings. Not only have we been instructed in literature, science, mathematics, history and other subjects essential to an academic training, but we have also learned the secrets of success—Christian love, humility, trust in God, and hope in His wishes to guide us to salvation. We have been taught Catholic ideals which will be the principles of our lives. We have been taught love of neighbor and the essentials of justice. As we have absorbed this knowledge we have become discerning as to the persons with whom we associate and the places which we visit.

All these teachings we will take with us as we venture without and they will be as candles to light the way along a dark road. These candles will never die out but will live until the end of time. Violent winds—atheism, heresy, persecution—will attempt to blow them out but, as in the past, they will fail. With our Alma Mater as "our guiding light and our inspiration" and with Christ as the Light of the World to watch over us, we will advance with our candles, watching them flare up and enkindle the heart of mankind.

The Eternal Light

By MARY DIERS

*I searched among the glowing stones
Of earthly hopes and joys;
But 'neath the surface of these gems
Were valueless alloys.*

*I touched the flaming stone of power
Wanting none—yet all
I dared to sip were dregs of pride,
And found its taste of gall.*

*Where was the jewel, pure and rare,
Of Everlasting Love?
From Earth's deceiving Fantasies
I raised my eyes above.*

*At last I found the treasure of Inestimable worth
The Light glows for e'er atop
The stairway of the earth.*

We Walk in the Light of Faith

Our high school career has come to an end and we face the world—a world filled with crime and deceit. But the Catholic graduate has learned to walk courageously by the light of faith.

Faith is not feeling. It is a greatness of mind which accepts blindly revelations of God. How happy this wonderful gift makes us. How fortunate we are to know God! This gift in itself makes life so much easier and understandable.

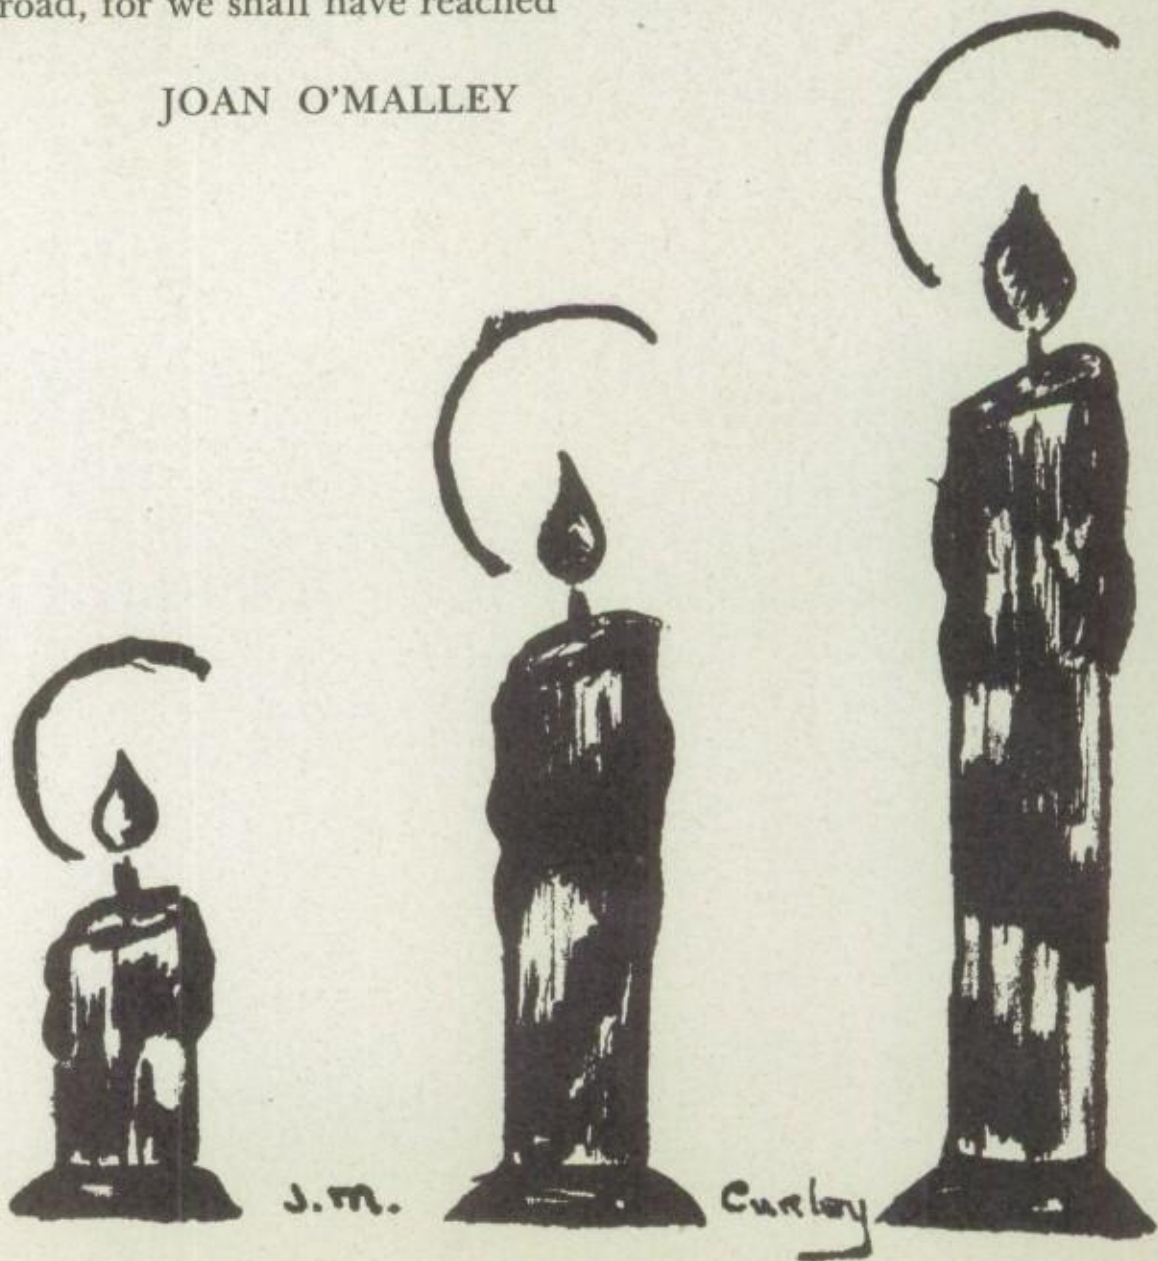

At times the road of life will be bumpy, but what laudable goal is obtained without some degree of hardship? The Faith with which we have been blessed shines on those spots that demand wary walking. There will be moments of distress and uncertainty but Faith innately will help us to triumph.

Faith gives more security, more courage, more peace of mind and heart, more consideration for our fellow man. Our days have passed in seeking God's help and approbation.

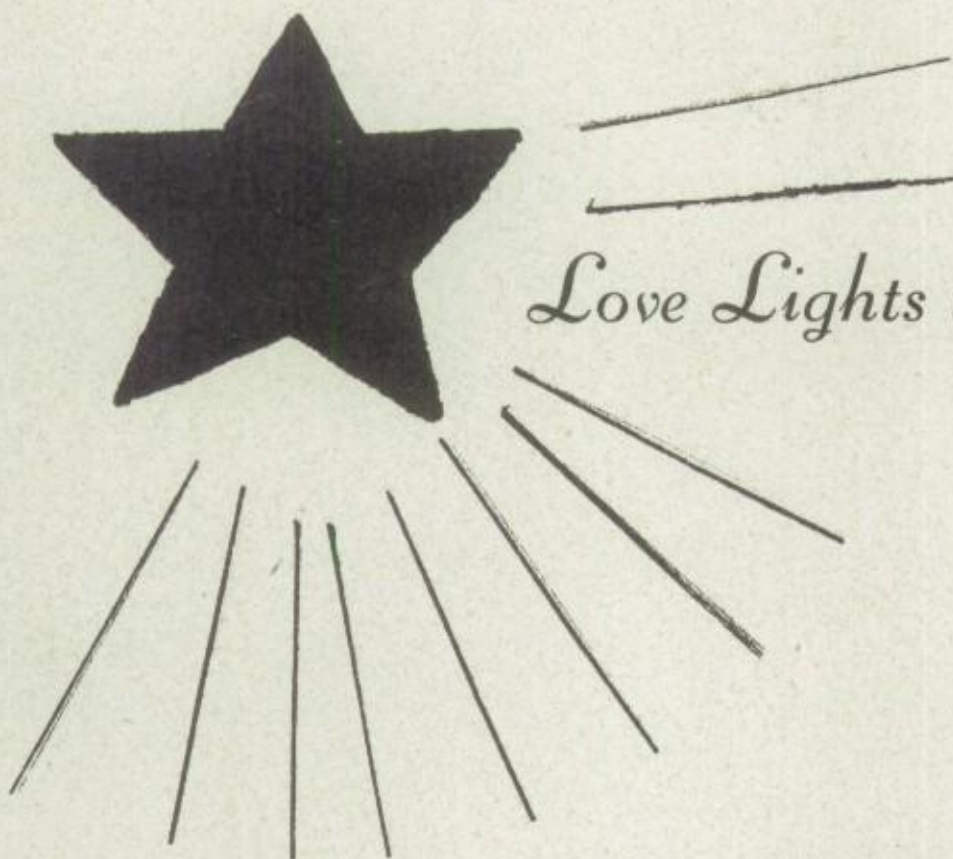

We are anxious to pass on this great gift to others. Not only our words, but our deeds, should be invitations to "taste and see that the Lord is sweet."

The culmination of a life lived according to these precepts of Faith is peace and contentment. Life with its difficulties and hardships will be a thing of the past. We will be happy when we come to the end of the long hard road, for we shall have reached our goal.

JOAN O'MALLEY

Love Lights the Way

Truly, love is the beacon light guiding man to his divine destiny. God has created us out of love and He has sustained us through love. Real charity is as the sun, radiant centre which streams forth on all sides the bright rays of divine truth which reveal God to man. Life is a Divine Romance with an eternity of love as its reward.

Love is an endless creative process, it is also an endless voyage of discovery. It is the spirit which defies the world with its maze of hypocrisies and vast expanse of unhappiness. The path of life is a labor of love; the conception of man and his yearning for a home whose doors are always open with welcome; these all preach charity. The foundation of Christianity is based on love of God and of neighbor. If, during life, we turn to love we shall forget to be grasping because we shall desire to serve the world, rather than ourselves.

But love is not entirely receiving; to be complete it must be infused with the thought of ever giving and sharing. Thou shalt not steal, thou shalt not kill, thou shalt not covet. These vices are not mere deprivations to help build character. Rather, they are forbidden because they are wrong; they hurt those with whom we should be living in harmony and love. They merely are small aids in keeping the greater affirmative law—That shalt love. Yes, we shall love through the care of the sick, the instruction of the ignorant and the burial of our dead. Outwardly these things are simple but to the true Christian they are the fulfillment of the law of love.

Charity alone shall light the way to the solution of all the problems confronting us today. Intolerance, international discord and domestic trials, in all their confusion and perplexity, shall give way to a happy world if the correct path is chosen. Turn to God, directed by the beacon light of love, for "In Him there is life, and the life is the light of men."

ELLEN CASEY

Let Your Light Shine

*"How far the little candle throws its gleam
So shines a good deed in a naughty world."*

So observed the philosopher and poet, William Shakespeare. It is a beautiful comparison, but not entirely his own; for, many centuries before the Elizabethan Age, the King of philosophy and poetry, Jesus Christ, told His followers, "You are the light of the world . . . men light a candle upon a candlestick, that it may shine to all who are in the house; so let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father Who is in heaven." That message He imparted to all who were to possess the Faith, not merely to those who were then His disciples. It was for us, that we may use the candle, not only to light our own path to the Eternal Light, but to attract others to its lucidity, warmth and glory.

This candle, lovely and inspiring, stands in a window, the window of Charity in the House of God. It burns quietly, but lights, warms and beautifies a cold heart, and by its very simplicity and unassuming richness, enlightens the labyrinths of sin and chastises proud spirits.

So can we, the present disciples of the King, take that candle, following always its light, and keep ever constant the fire of our Faith. By our words and actions, throughout our lives, whatever may be our state, we may reflect its gentle light to all with whom we come in contact. Numerous and frequent will come opportunities to melt the icy heart, to enkindle the lukewarm and to guide the fervent. Thus will be the candle's gleam: far-flung yet steadfast, universal yet constant, glorious yet quiet, mighty yet humble!

KATHLEEN MAX.

A Vessel of Light

A woman etched in loveliness,
A vessel of light shall be,
To hold aloft in her bright lamp,
The Light for the world to see.

T'was God Himself, gave her the spark
Not many years ago;
And many hands along the way
Have fanned the gentle glow.

And she, adorned exquisitely,
Shall hold the fragile flame;
Within the keeping of her heart
Shall guard her precious claim.

Simplicity and purity,
With tenderness combined,
Have made the clearest, safest place
To keep the flame enshrined.

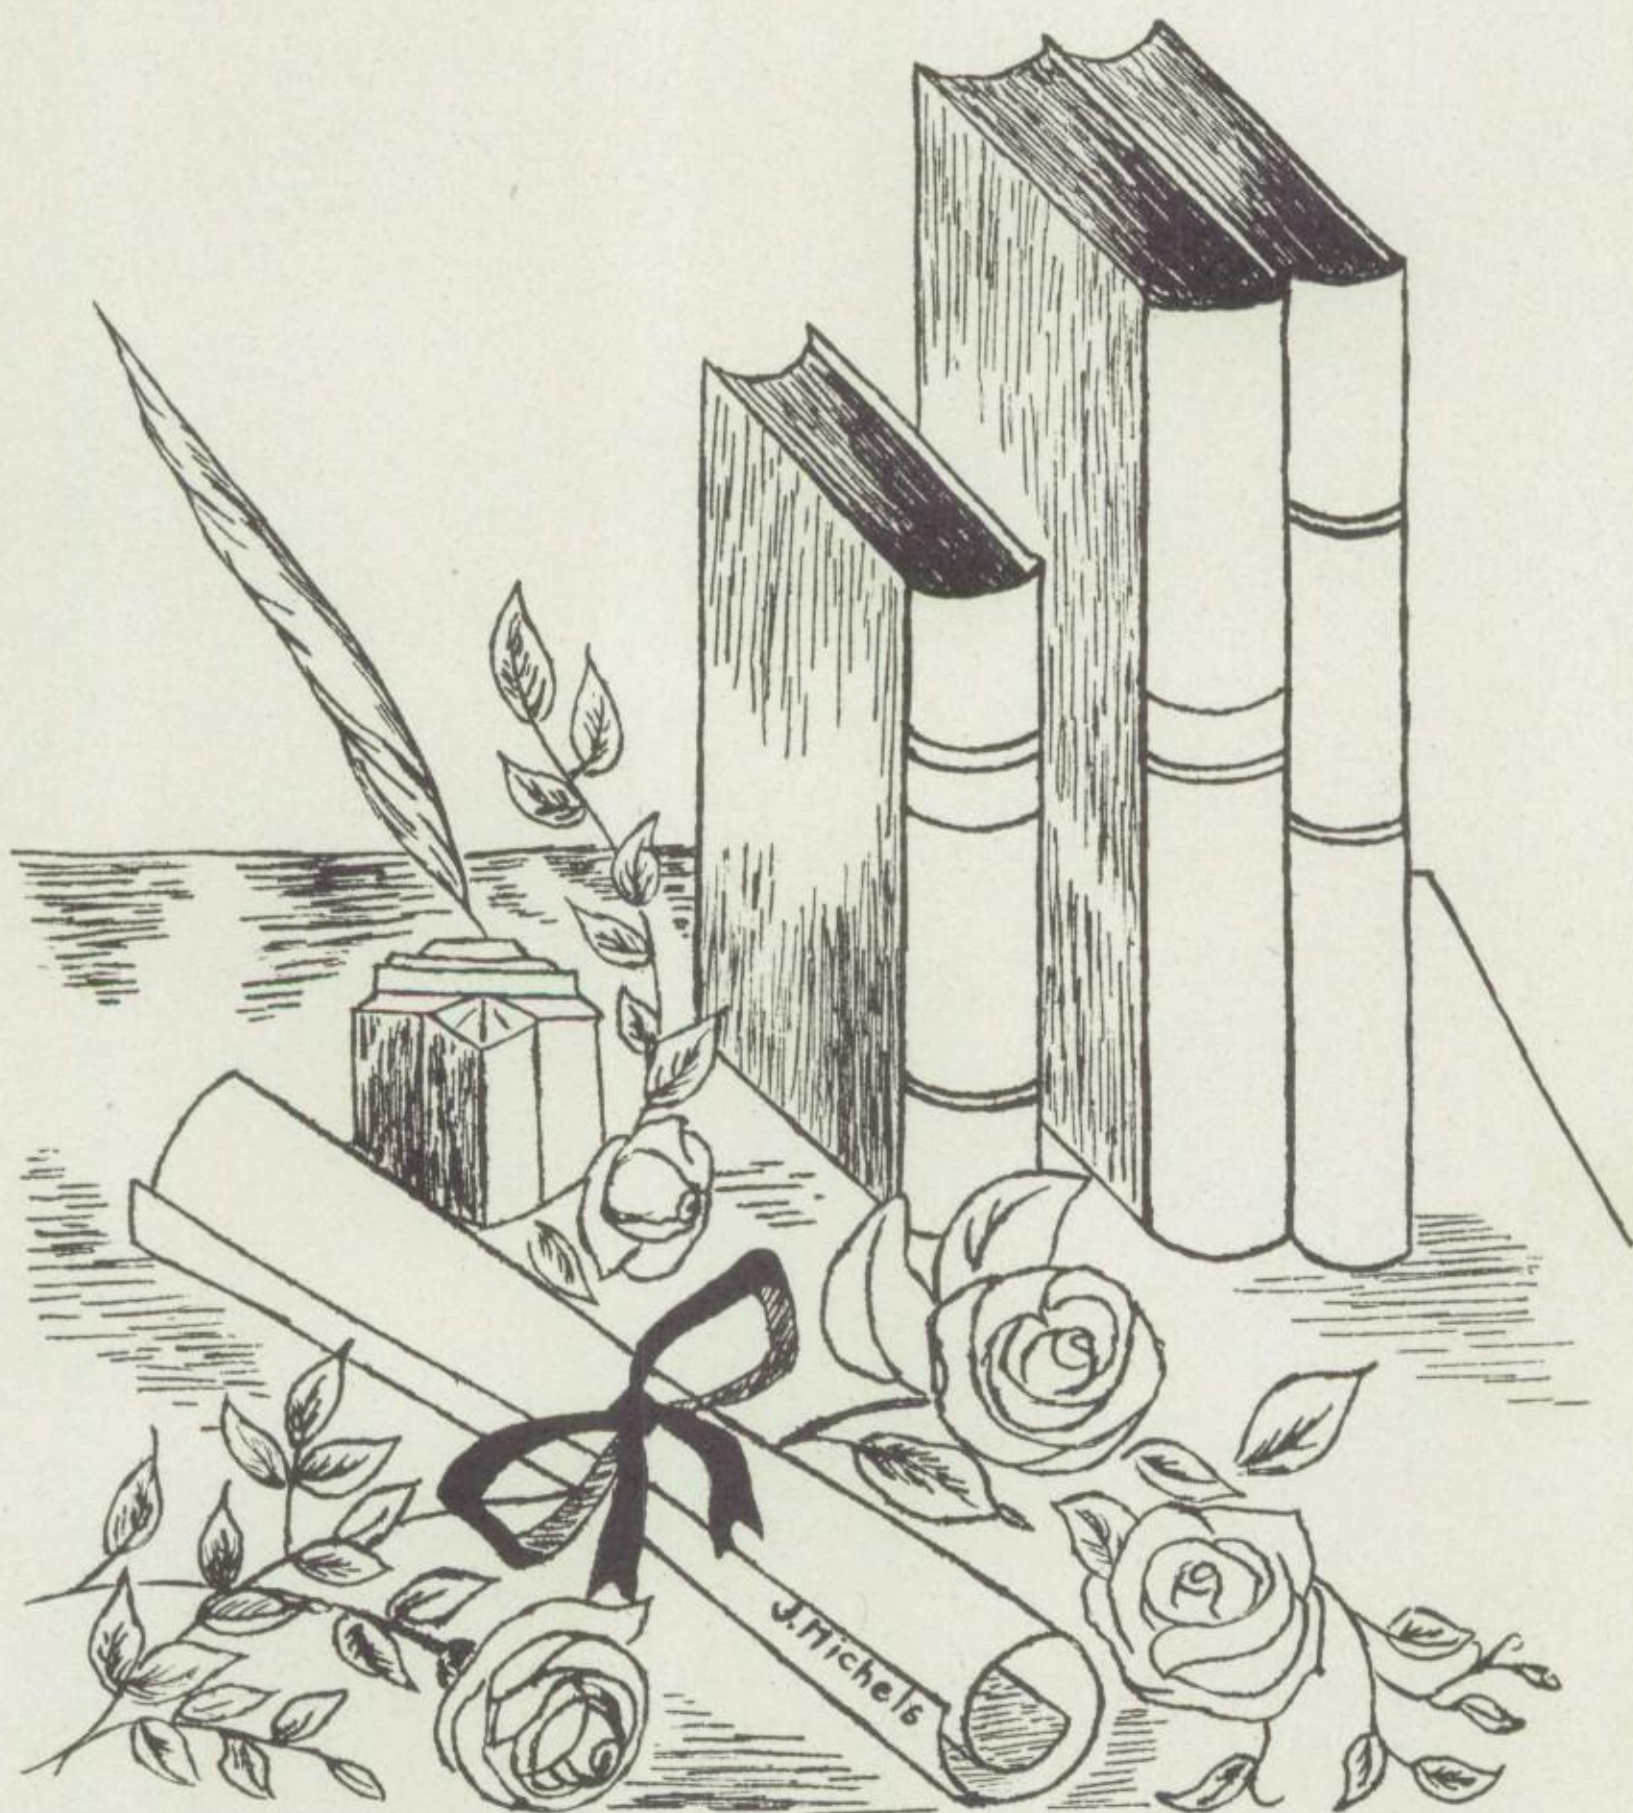

And Faith has made it strong and sure,
And Trust has made it fine,
And Love has been the candle
Where the Light may always shine.

And with this light she sees the way
Along life's darkened fare
Nor shall she ever trade her prize
For all the earth's false glare.

Yet this is not her gift alone,
But she must spread the Light;
For every spark that kindles low
Adds brightness to the night.

And all the world turns hopefully
To her to lead the way
To lift Christ high, "Light of the World"
That we may have the Day.

January Class History

Just four short years ago, we boarded the Saint Francis Limited. Our destination was—Success!

As the train pulled out of the depot, it seemed to most of us that the journey would be a long and difficult one. However, we soon found out differently. Along the way, through the efforts of our capable crew, we sidetracked such obstacles as Latin, algebra, and chemistry.

The members of the faculty, our engineers, were ever watchful to keep us on the straight and narrow track. 'Midst pleasures and toil, we soon found our journey coming to a close.

Our Senior year, the last stop before the end of the line, was upon us. At last we were given our coveted school rings—the garnet and gold—symbol of our teamwork.

Initiation of the Freshmen and our Hillbilly

Hallowe'en antics take special place in our train of thoughts. We all looked forward anxiously to the main social event—our Senior Prom—but, Mother Nature took a hand in this and gave us the worst blizzard recorded in the New York City files.

Class day will always be remembered with fondness by all. The School Keys were presented to us and will be cherished long after the tedium of our journey has been forgotten.

Now we can hear the conductor call—"Last stop, all off!" But, can it be possible? Our high school days are gone forever. Sadly, but with a sense of fulfillment, we bid "adieu" to our Alma Mater and take our places in the Alumnae of Saint Francis Xavier Academy.

June Class Looks Back

Racing merrily through four years of uniforms, cokes, and studies, we found little time to appreciate what we had, rather, we took it for granted. Only now, in graduating, we are conscious of what we are leaving.

It was September, 1944, when old "Sol" shone radiantly down on forty-eight eager freshmen. We waited patiently, almost hesitantly, to begin what has proven to be four memorable years of hard work, mingled with fun and lasting friendships. We were excited that day—anxious and happy that at long last, we were to experience those incidents that label one—"Freshie." And "Freshies" we were, with spoon corsages, mass of "pigtails," and elaborate name plates. But as the days went by, we realized that there was more to being a "Freshie" than the fun of initiation, and soon we were being initiated into the mysteries of Latin and algebra.

In sophomore year we changed the x's and y's for geometric angles and propositions. Little did we know just how much the bargain entailed. Caesar campaigned against us. But we were no longer "Freshies." In fact we sent the new "Freshies" up to see the famous swimming pool on the fourth floor, an attraction that we ourselves had climbed to see upon our arrival.

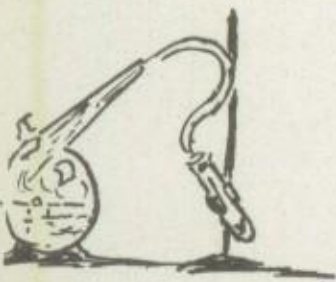

Alas, the end is almost in sight! September '46 found us "Jubilant Juniors," sitting in on the trial of the notorious Catiline, and listening to the orations of the brilliant prosecutor, "Tully." It didn't take many periods in the Chem lab to discover that most of us would never be modern Curie's. Being measured for our Senior rings, spurred us on to greater effort in the June examinations.

Then we found ourselves looking forward to Hallowe'en—but not for the eeriness of the fantasies of the witches and goblins. On this day we received the garnet ring that later was to reflect the memories of our happy school days. Little did we realize that when we glanced into the dark, red recesses of that stone, hearts would be filled with memories of Senior years. Now we see ourselves as happy, angelic choristers bringing the Christmas spirit to those around us. We remember our disappointment when our prom was postponed because of twenty-five inches of snow. And most important, among the memories that come flooding back to us today, is the picture of our Class Day, and finally, of Graduation.

Of the four years the last has been the happiest, yet it has been the saddest, too. For we are leaving the wonderful days behind us. We shall miss the familiar corridors, classrooms and stairways. But there are things, beautiful things which will never leave us; the tense moments of basketball games, the wild cheering, the anxiety of the last few seconds! the gay holiday spirit that descends at Christmas time, painting windows, sending cards; crowning Mary Queen of the May, the hymns, the flowers, burning the petitions; the most irreplaceable of all, our visits to the chapel, a retreat from the clamoring world, where peace envelops each visitor and our Lord, Himself listens and consoles.

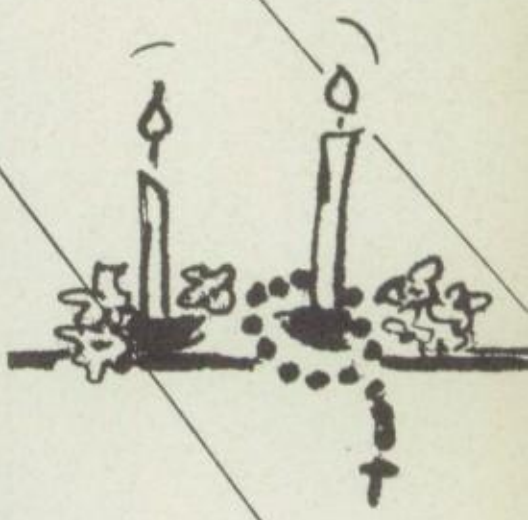

These are our memories; ours to keep, to treasure, always.

VIRGO DOLOROSA PRAESIDIUM

OUR LADY OF LA SALETTE PRAESIDIUM

Legion of Mary

As little children, we were told prayers to Mary would obtain from her Son our special intentions. Legionnaires honor her weekly with a meeting of prayer and thanksgiving and an hour of charitable works, i.e., visiting the hospitalized and the blind, making rosaries, etc. The Legion has so influenced Xavierites that this year over eleven dozen dolls were dressed for Christmas distribution among less fortunate children.

It is our joy, the praesidium, Mater Misericordiae, has been inaugurated by the alumnae in order that our graduates may always "be as little children" to Mary.

JOAN T. DENTON

MARIA PIETA PRAESIDIUM

Propagation of the Faith

By the zealous works of the officers and the class prefects, through the past year, the student body has become mission-minded. During Christmas time the girls gave generously to help support the little ones of China and the Lenten mite boxes were filled to capacity.

We trust that future records are even better than the ones we have made.

The Courier

The sound of school dismissal bell on Monday afternoon is the signal that precipitates a rush to "Courier" meetings, where juniors and seniors assemble to plan and publish the school paper. The casual observer would notice a bevy of girls; searching for possible news items, giggling over a preview of Tiny Types, or industriously scanning copy in search of error.

The "Courier" has been, for many of us, the means of furthering an ambition, by helping us to bridge the gap between learning and teaching, receiving and giving.

The Varsity

On the defensive side of our Varsity we have our wonderful guards Rose Chislett, Betty McCormack, Joan Denton, Pat Walsh and Eleanor Gay and Eileen Kinsely. Their fast work brings the ball up to our straight-shooting forwards: Ginny Wittrock, Maryann Frost, Captain Ann Kennedy, Joan Curley, Phyllis Curran, Jeanne Doyle and Maureen Gilbert.

Any success merited by our team is due to the careful coaching of Miss Gilhooley and Miss Mullen, the indispensable aid of our managers, Joan O'Malley and Alice Pardy, under the guidance of the Sisters in charge.

St. Francis Xavier Annex, in existence about two years, has done much to reflect credit on its staff and its students. Each term finds a large class of Freshmen registered, and these in turn have increased the enrollment at the Academy in the Sophomore year. Two large classes entered in February, bringing the number of St. Francis students up to 530.

The "Gateway" and the "Courier" have received substantial support from the students; Catholic action groups function with great results and the scholastic records speak of splendid work accomplished. The graduates of '48 wish their Freshman sisters the best that school life can offer.

How the Capitol Seized Us

Charged with anticipation we left St. Francis Friday, November twenty-eighth for Washington, the filing cabinet of our nation's history, museum of its works of art and the rostra from which it speaks.

Arriving we viewed a striking silhouette, the Capitol, grey against a very blue sky. This was but the beginning of a mavelous series of thrills that surged through us continuously during our stay.

We inspected the huge Congressional Library. We walked down the steps from the top of the Washington Monument. We explored the Smithsonian Institute. We saw the miniature Shakespearean Theatre in the Folger Library. We rode through Arlington, stopping at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. We visited Mount Vernon and stood on the porch overlooking the Potomac, where once Washington entertained Lafayette. We admired the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, as yet unfinished. We were admitted to the White House. We wandered through the Capitol amazed at the phenominal whispering galleries.

Yet to me, all these wondrous sights were far less expressive than two others. The first was the Franciscan Monastery, where, after assisting at Mass and attending a communion breakfast, a guide led us to various shrines. One a dimly lighted, chamber in which lay a breathtaking likeness of Christ in the sepulchre. We were stunned by its realness, its vividness, its holiness.

The other indelible mark was left after seeing the Lincoln Memorial. It was hard to believe that those eyes were stone; for they were relaxing, understanding, yet determined eyes. Eyes that welcomed each of us, warmed our hearts, and made us gladder than ever to be Americans.

We returned from Washington richer for having had our anticipation thoroughly satisfied. If the world today would but view the entombed Christ as we; herald Him as its Light; and realize that it is from this Light that the Lincolns kindle their torches; then we might approach peace with a surer step.

A Graduate's Prayer

Dear God,

All other decisions made throughout our lives are suddenly insignificant, in the face of the greatest. In years to come, when, with Your help we have found our tiny places in this world, we will doubtless recall the alpine proportions with which it looms at present, lightly. It is to us now a mountainous problem, for, in taking the next step we must possess a definite aim. We must know where we are going and then resolve on getting there.

You have given to each of us certain gifts—gifts that You have commanded us to utilize. Dear God, help us to recognize these gifts and upon recognizing, help us to employ them for You.

We need the Light of Faith. Instill it firmly within us that we may realize it, appreciate it, keep it. We need the Light of hope; to use, perhaps, as a crutch, when weary, along life's way. Most of all, Dear God, we need the glorious Light of Your love, a love we know more infinite than time, more endless than space.

With these, then, we shall be far richer than any earthly potentate, for our wealth will be eternal. It will endure forever, after the brightness of mundane opulence has dimmed. With these we shall be better able to progress along the pathway of life, imbued with a shining faith, strengthened by a glistening hope, blessed by a radiant Love.

It is truly a mountain that challenges us. We can ascend with ease but in which direction? Dear God, call us to our individual ways. Now, upon our graduation, show us, guide us, enlighten us. Amen.

MARYANN FROST

*O LORD GOD, Almighty Father, unfailing light, who art the Creator of all light — who hast enlightened the whole world; that we may be inflamed with that light and enlightened by the fire of Thy glory—enlighten our hearts and our senses that we may deserve to arrive at light and life everlasting.
—Amen*
